About American Legal Connections

American Legal Connections was founded by Hall Booth Smith, P.C., and began as an organization of companies, healthcare professionals, claims professionals, underwriters, carriers, and many more who work together to advance their education, training, and knowledge on emerging issues in a collaborative way. ALC focuses on collaboration as a foundational element of the organization's mission and has grown to be an umbrella organization that provides a platform for groups to collaborate within and across industries. ALC was founded with the vision of building a network of professionals committed to collaboration, improving outcomes, and driving the development of innovative strategies. Through seminars and member-authored publications, ALC leverages the expertise of industry leaders to advance knowledge and practice.
